

Music makes good things happen.

MUSIC RIGHTS
COLLECTIVE MANAGEMENT
ORGANISATION
IN FINLAND

Gramex offers licensing services that enable the use of phonogram music in media and public performance and produce fair remuneration.

A joint society at your service

Gramex is a copyright society of performing artists and phonogram producers in Finland. Gramex wants to make using music easier and collects remunerations to performers and producers in Finland and around the world.

A link between music users and rightsholders

Gramex has more than 54 000 client agreements with performing artists and producers. Gramex remunerations are collected from approximately 200 media licensing users and about 31 000 premises such as restaurants, stores and gyms.

Remunerations to rightsholders

Year 2018 Gramex distributed and paid out 22 million euros for music, approximately 10.3 million euros to performers and 11,7 million euros to producers. Remuneration was paid to 13 561 direct rightsholder clients and more than 20 000 rightsholders through CMO:s outside Finland.

Nonprofit organisation

Gramex is a nonprofit organisation, governed by the representatives of artists' and producers' organisations.

To become Gramex rightsholder client one has to either perform on a phonogram or produce a phonogram.

Remunerations collected

Gramex collected 2018 total of 23,5 million euros.

- background music (incl. public performance and dubbing) 9.5 million
- media licensing 12.0 million
- private copying 1.3 million
- remuneration from abroad 0.7 million

Gramex ry
Pieni Roobertinkatu 16 A
00120 Helsinki, Finland
+358 9 4282 7488
www.gramex.fi

Copyright society of performing artists and phonogram producers in Finland

Music makes good things happen.